

TO: Members of the Academic Council

RE: APPOINTMENT OF FACULTY OMBUDSMAN

At the May 13, 2010 Academic Council meeting, the Executive Committee will recommend reappointment of Jeffrey R. Dawson, Professor Emeritus of Immunology and Associate Dean for Basic Medical Science Curriculum in the School of Medicine, for a two-year term as Faculty Ombudsman beginning July 1. The Ombudsman is appointed by the Academic Council and reports directly to the President. President Brodhead is supportive of this appointment.

Professor Dawson has served seven terms on Academic Council and one on its Executive Committee. Included in his extensive university service, Professor Dawson served as a member and faculty co-chair of the President's Committee on Facilities and the Environment for fifteen years, a member and chair of the Basic Medical Scientists Coordinating Committee for several years, and chaired the APT committee for the Department of Immunology for fourteen years. He has also served on several search committees and committees for performance reviews of senior administrators and medical school departments. In his part time position as associate dean, his primary responsibility is oversight of basic science medical education, and in this same capacity he serves on the executive committee to the Duke University-National University of Singapore Graduate Medical School.
